Heartless thieves raid special school

HIT HARD: Pupils and staff at Fairfield's School in Northampton are left stunned and shocked by the theft of all 22 iPads

BY LAWRENCE JOHN

lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

Callous thieves have stolen 22 iPads from children with special needs.

Thieves broke into Fairfield's School in Trinity Avenue on January 17, by removing a large pane of glass, smashing down doors and stealing the iPads.

Headteacher Dr Corallie Murray said: "They stole all 22 iPads.

"They are all for our special needs children who use them in their lessons.

"If the teacher wants to tell them about a thunderstorm they do not have to describe it, they can show them and they can hear the noise.

"This theft has shut a door which had been open to them and their learning experience.

"They are all etched with the name and address of the school and we can block them if they go on line.

"To enter the school they removed a huge pane and then broke down some doors.

"They knew what they were looking for.

"This has had a huge impact on our children."

Police are appealing for witnesses following this burglary and at two other schools in Northampton.

Officers believe all incidents may be linked to a burglary happened on January 17, between 7.55pm and 9pm, at Woodvale Primary Academy in Crestwood Road, Goldings, where a laptop was stolen.

A further burglary happened at The Arbours Primary Academy between 1am and 1.30am on Tuesday, January 21, when seven laptops were stolen.

Detective Inspector Dave Harley said: "We are investigating a number of school burglaries where computer equipment has been stolen, which we believe to be linked.

"Crime prevention officers are making contact with schools across the county to help them maximise their security.

Anyone with information should call Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Long range road rage

A road rage driver followed a 46-year-old man 45 miles to his work place in Brackmills, Northampton and punched him in the face.

The man was driving a red Peugeot 306 from the A605 near Peterborough towards Northampton on the A45, when he was cut up by a dark Citroen C2 or C3, between 6.40am and 7am.

The victim flashed his lights and beeped his horn at the Citroen.

This provoked the Citroen driver who manoeuvred his car so he was following the victim and then flashed his lights at him.

He continued to follow the car as they travelled towards Northampton, pulling up alongside the victim when the traffic slowed, throwing items at the victim's car.

He then followed the victim to his place of work in Brackmills where he got out of the car and punched him.

It's hot, it's tasty...
Is this the next reggae-reggae sauce?

Editor's Letter

Statues should not move – it is as simple as that

There are some things you shouldn't have to say.

Here's an example plucked off the top of somebody else's head: "Take your hat off indoors Nicholas Bieber..."

I won't trouble you with the story behind that but there is a story I will trouble you with and it starts with something you shouldn't have to say.

Statues don't move.

I'm talking about the Francis Crick statue, commemorating the Northampton Grammar School pupil who grew up and discovered DNA.

It lies in the path of the planned traffic flow through Abington Street, a one way river of cars that will snake from St Giles Terrace through to Wellington Street.

Personally I think this is an interesting idea but believe me, that is no recommendation - the graveyard of my interesting ideas is a twisted and scary place. There is fairly entrenched opposition to it from opposition parties at the Guildhall but the Tory Council Leader David Mackintosh has been resolute so far.

The argument, like everything in the town centre, has the 'fors' saying it will invigorate the town centre and the 'againsts' saying it will ruin the town centre.

In the midst of it all the Crick statue (which does look a bit like a giant Happy Meal toy) has been earmarked for relocation - maybe to the new Waterside university site.

But if you ask me statues by their very nature should be permanent things. It's part of the power of the artistic statement. It's a big solid metal or stone thing. Here is something for us and our children and their children.

Let's not move it at all. Let the traffic move round it. Traffic is designed to move round things. Am I missing something?

Let's have Abington Street Circus right there. Or how about Francis Crick Circus?

New twist in 'blazing car murder' case

REPORTER Lawrence John spoke to Dr Lisa Smith, who was part of the team investigating this gruesome murder which happened in 1930

The 'blazing car murder' which occurred in the village of Hardingstone near Northampton in 1930 took a further twist this week when it featured on the BBC One Show

It was revealed the family of William Thomas Briggs who they believed had been murdered was not in fact the victim.

While not giving them closure in finding out what happened to William it did mean he had not been killed in this incident.

The 83-year-old case involved the murder of a male in a car fire in Hardingstone, Northamptonshire, on 6 November 1930. Alfred Rouse was convicted, and later hanged, at Bedford Gaol in March 1931, for murdering his victim who to this day, has not been identified.

At the time, a post mortem examination was carried out in the garage of the local public house by the Home Office-appointed pathologist Sir Bernard Spilsbury, working alongside another local pathologist.

Last year, a number of William Briggs's relatives approached Northamptonshire Police in an attempt to put the 83-year-old mystery to rest and finally reveal the identity of the victim.

They met with the Force's curator and archivist Richard Cowley, discussed the story of the murder and were shown artefacts relating to the crime which, at the time received worldwide attention.

A team from the University of Leicester, led by Dr John Bond OBE from the Department of Chemistry and Dr Lisa Smith from the Department of Criminology worked with colleagues from Northumbria University, Northamptonshire Police and The Royal London Hospital Museum to tackle the riddle of the Blazing Car Murder case from over 80 years ago.

Dr Lisa Smith from the University of Leicester said: "We had obviously hoped to be able to provide some closure for the family after all of these years, however the identity of the murder victim and the whereabouts of William Briggs remain a mystery.

"However, from a historical perspective it has been very rewarding to work on such a famous, local murder case and we remain hopeful one day we may be able identify the victim.

"It was a long time from the moment the family approached us to our conclusions and was about 18 months from start to finish.

"It was interesting as the case was 83 years old and it was unique as you are normally looking for a perpetrator and not a victim.

"So as a result this was unique and interesting.

"The first break through and our eureka moment was finding out the slide existed after all this time and secondly the DNA was good enough to use.

"This was a high profile crime and getting where we did it was a good mix of scientific effort, police work and luck."

Detective Chief Superintendent Paul Phillips from Northamptonshire Police said: "From our perspective this is a closed case, the offender Alfred Rouse was convicted of murder and hanged, but this has been a long-standing mystery in Northamptonshire as the identity of the victim has never been established.

"Our work at Northamptonshire Police is victim focused so I was delighted to learn of new opportunities to establish the identity of the victim through the development of forensic science.

"It is a shame the results have not provided closure for the family but we remain hopeful that this may be a first exciting step towards this mystery finally being solved."

INVESTIGATING: Scientists from the University of Leicester were one of the driving forces behind trying to discover more about this Northamptonshire murder

Big named comics coming to county

Here are five of the funniest comics coming to the Royal & Derngate in the next few months

1

Russell Brand goes on his Messiah Complex is a mental disorder where the sufferer thinks they might be the messiah. The controversial, out spoken, film actor will be bringing his new show to the Royal & Derngate on April 3-4

2

Russell Howard, one of the funniest and most successful comedians, as he tries out material and warms up for his sold-out arena tour. He returns to his first love, live stand-up with his first tour for three years.

3

Jimmy Carr has been described as 'the hardest working man in comedy'. Which, let's face facts, is not that impressive. It's like being the 'Tallest Dwarf' or the 'Healthiest Glaswegian'.

4

The British Comedy Award's Queen of Comedy Sarah Millican is giving up the party scene (Ann Summers), easing off on the drinking (fizzy pop equals wealthy dentists) and is settling down (taking her bra off).

5

Following a sell-out London run comedy legend Frank Skinner takes his brand new show to venues nationwide. He will be at The Royal & Derngate on May 13 and 14.

150 jobs at risk at Barclaycard

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Up to 150 jobs at Barclaycard are at risk and the majority of them will be at its Northampton headquarters in Brackmills.

Employees in the operations and technology department are under threat.

A spokesperson for Barclaycard said: "We will work closely with Unite to keep potential redundancies to a minimum, and will be offering staff continuing support as we work through the consultation process."

"It is expected that the majority of impacted colleagues will work within our Northampton site. We have, however, made substantial investment in Northampton over the years and the site remains a key strategic and operational centre."

Barclaycard says it is in consultation with staff union Unite over the planned cuts.

Northampton South MP Brian Binley said: "I have gone back to Barclaycard and have said that I would be of any help I can to the company, or those who may be affected by any redundancies."

"Barclaycard has invested quite a lot of money in Northampton and I believe that they have every intention of staying in the town."

"Companies have to find ways to become more productive and I believe that this is what this measure is about."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Trevor Skidmore feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough & Corby areas and Trevor is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Trevor a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Keep iconic statue in town

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

The Headteacher of Northampton School for Boys, Sir Michael Griffiths, is urging MPs for the iconic Francis Crick statue to stay in the heart of the town.

As part of his campaign to keep the statue in the town centre, Sir Michael has emailed two Northampton MPs urging them to ensure the sculpture of Professor Crick, who was a former pupil at his school, isn't left hidden from the town's view on the new University of Northampton campus.

It comes after we revealed the iconic statue will be moved as a result of traffic being allowed back into Abington Street, and may be relocated to the new campus.

He told the Herald & Post: "If the statue celebrating the achievements of Francis Crick must be moved from Abington Street, then it is vital that it should be relocated to a suitably prominent central location in the town, where it can be an inspiration to all Northamptonians."

"The statue was funded to be a gift to the people of Northampton. I hope it will not be 'hidden' on a future university campus."

Professor Crick was born in Weston Favell, Northampton, in 1916, and was one of Britain's great scientists and is best known for helping discover the structure of DNA in 1953.

The sculpture honours the Professor, who died aged 88 in 2004 at Thornton Hospital in San Diego, US. He had been battling colon cancer.

ONE OF THE BEST: Francis Crick was one of Britain's great scientists after helping to discover the structure of DNA

Borough Council David Mackintosh said: "The changes to Abington Street will mean that the Francis Crick statue will have to be moved, and I think it is an opportunity to relocate it in an appropriate and fitting place. Discussions have taken place about the Francis Crick statue although no decision has yet been made."

Earlier last week, a traffic regulation order for Abington Street was approved at a Northamptonshire County Council meeting, allowing the scheme to progress.

It will see the section between St Giles Terrace and Wellington Street reopened to traffic with parking and dropping off points.

Sir Michael, who was recently knighted in the New Year's Honours List, sent his email to Northampton North MP Michael Ellis and Northampton South MP Brian Binley.

Margaret is in influential top 100

Professor Margaret Bates from The University of Northampton has been voted as number 30 in Resource Magazine's Hot 100 most influential people in wastes management.

Margaret Bates who is Professor of Sustainable Wastes Management in the School of Science and Technology, has once again been voted in Resource Magazine's annual Hot 100 of the most influential people in the industry.

Thousands of industry professionals voted in the poll, and the Hot 100 list was announced during the Kit

Strange Memorial Lecture, held at the House of Commons on January 15.

Margaret featured in the Hot 100 at number 30, higher than she has placed in previous years (in 2012 Margaret was number 38, and number 77 in 2011).

The voters lauded Margaret for her work in Africa, leading the developing world's WEEE (Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment) revolution.

Professor Bates said: "The nice thing about the Resource Hot 100 is that it's voted by the industry, and so shows that your peers appreciate the work you do. "You look at the Hot 100 and you see what esteemed company you are in."

"It is a reflection of the hard work of the wastes team at the University.

ACCUSED: Nurse Yvonne Brathwaite-John is accused of throttling a brain-damaged amputee

Nurse denies strangle attack

BY STAFF REPORTER
news@hpnorthants.co.uk

A nurse accused of trying to throttle a brain-damaged amputee claims a clump of her hair was torn out in the violent struggle, a tribunal heard.

Yvonne Brathwaite-John grabbed the thinly-built patient round the neck and refused to let go in the scuffle at the National Brain Injury Centre in Northampton, it is said.

But the nurse of 35 years said she is actually the victim of a 'vicious attack' and needed the help of four colleagues to restrain the violence-prone patient.

Her representative, David Juckes, told the Nursing and Midwifery Council that Brathwaite-John had been left 'shocked and traumatised' by the incident.

'This situation involves a cacophony of noise, of movement where people, we submit, lack one clear narrative,' he said.

'She had just been subject to what was a vicious attack in which it appeared hair was actually pulled from her head.'

The NMC panel heard violence flared up when the woman, referred to as Resident A, reacted angrily to being told she could not go out because of misbehaviour the previous day.

The patient, who had a 'thin frame' and was around 5ft 5inches tall, started to yank the nurse by her hair down to the floor, the tribunal heard.

Resident A, who was prone to frequent bouts of violence, had suffered a brain injury and used a prosthetic leg after losing her limb jumping out of a window.

But after four colleagues helped control the situation, Brathwaite-John allegedly put her hand around the woman's neck, applied pressure and refused to let go.

Pleading Brathwaite-John's case to the panel, Mr Juckes said the evidence provided by the NMC was insufficient to find the nurse guilty.

The NMC panel has now retired to decide whether Brathwaite-John is guilty of the allegation against her.

She denies that she put her hands around the patient's throat, applied pressure and refused to remove them.

The hearing continues.

Rail route has potential, but needs realignment

I read with interest Simon Barber's letter on the rail route between Bedford and Northampton (BON). This route has much potential and it is vital that the trackbed be protected, though re-alignment may be needed in places.

As a member of the rail lobby and an active member of Northampton Rail Users Group I am disappointed with the way he presents his case.

That BON would facilitate travel between Bedford and West Midlands has no benefit to Northampton. Having commuted to Bedford I cannot see many finding it an attractive link between the two towns.

The supposed wonders of a link to St. Pancras are not all that they seem. Even if trains only stopped at Olney and Bedford, the journey could not be done in under 70 minutes: there is already scope for a 45 minute journey from Castle Station to Euston even though at its peak we had just two such journeys. A few years ago there was a viable proposal to extend Thameslink to Northampton, but this would entail a journey of around an hour and a half, which few commuters would find attractive. Luton Airport and St. Pancras could more readily be accessed by short curves to/from the Marston Vale line.

Simon does not discuss the potential of the new university site or the East-West rail link. The latter offers connections to Cambridge and beyond, as part of a route from the West Midlands.

It will take years to build the line to Cambridge. Meanwhile we have to contend with the HS2 controversy. Whilst most agree with having a new, high speed line, there are many problems such as the cost, route and its standalone nature. There is also the problem with statistics. Disraeli's remark about lies, damned lies and statistics is widely known. The bcr (benefit cost ratio) depends on input data, which is mostly projections and easy to adjust.

Can we afford to abandon, should we campaign for drastic route revisions. Do we campaign to increase the bcr (and cost) by building a stop at Brackley, potentially connecting with the Banbury line

The 'maRAfon' will see elderly, injured and disabled RAF veterans and their families, friends and supporters, including myself, running, walking or rolling their own distance, to be collected into a single grand total over the Easter weekend (18th-21st April 2014).

If like me you watch the London Marathon every year and think 'that looks amazing' but aren't as fit as you'd like to be, the maRAFon is for you. You can do it wherever you like, however you like - in groups, or individually, on a treadmill or on the way to work. It's a great way for young and old, disabled and able-bodied, fit and unfit to come together and have fun while raising money to support those who give, or have given, service to this country.

Remember the millions murdered in Holocaust

Holocaust Memorial Day, on 27 January, is an opportunity for us all to remember the millions murdered in the Holocaust, under Nazi Persecution, and in subsequent genocides in Cambodia, Rwanda, Bosnia and Darfur.

The number of people involved in the day grows every single year, with individuals and groups across the UK coming together to pause and reflect not only on the past, but on its lessons for the future. This year is the 20th anniversary of the Genocide in Rwanda. As a nation, we must all share responsibility for maintaining the memory of these atrocities, to make sure they can never happen again.

From prisons in Leeds to football clubs in London, this year Holocaust Memorial Day will be marked at over 2,000 events. I would urge everyone to find out what will be happening in their community and to take part. Please visit www.hmd.org.uk for more information. # Charity saddened by patron's death

nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Northamptonshire Air Ambulance ambassador and actor Roger Lloyd-Pack, who played Trigger in Only Fools And Horses, has died aged 69.

The iconic British actor, who made his stage debut in Northampton at the Northampton Repertory Company in 'The Shoemakers Holiday', is best known to millions as the slow-witted road sweeper in the BBC sitcom OFAH and also appeared as Owen Newitt in The Vicar of Dibley.

Born in Islington, north London in 1944, Pack was also known to international audiences for his part as Barty Crouch, Sr. in Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire.

When contacted by the Northamptonshire Herald & Post, former colleague John Challis, who played Boycie in Only Fools and Horses, said: "I'm in complete shock about it."

Chief Executive of the WNAA, Andy Williamson, said: "It is with great sadness that we learn of the passing of Roger Lloyd-Pack.

"He was a huge supporter of both The Children's Air Ambulance and the local air ambulances. He attended many events on our behalf and was always willing to help promote the cause and the need for funds."

"He will be sorely missed as a supporter and as a friend and he will always be remembered fondly by our Charity."

His agent confirmed he died of pancreatic cancer on Wednesday night.

The Air Ambulance receives no government funding or funding from any organisation but relies on public support to keep it flying.

ANGERED: MP Brian Binley says he has not had improper donations

MPs reject accusations

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Northampton South MP Brian Binley has hit out at an allegation that he accepted a donation of £2,265.60 from a tobacco company.

The MP was reacting to the accusation made by Northamptonshire Labour that he accepted the donation from Japan Tobacco International.

Mr Binley said: "There's a difference between a donation and being a guest at a function.

"I've never had a donation at all from any company whatsoever. So I would give this little advice to the regional Labour party, A - get your facts right and B - as an old dog, let me remind you that dog doesn't eat dog."

Northamptonshire Labour say that the information came from a website called searchthemoney.com - a tool built to look at donations made to Conservative MPs. The site is funded by the GMB, CWU and Unite trade unions but uses data gathered from the Electoral Commission.

CLr John McGhee (Lab, Kingswood), Labour leader at

Northamptonshire County Council, said: "We've known that Tory MPs have been bankrolled by rich donors for a long time, but some of the behaviour by Tory MPs with regards to the donations they have been accepting is simply inexcusable."

Northampton North MP, Michael Ellis - a barrister for 17 years before becoming an MP - says he is disappointed the allegations signal Labour's intention to fight a dirty election campaign in the county with smears and accusations. Northamptonshire Labour also accused Mr Ellis of taking a donation from JTI which he refutes utterly.

"JTI is a private company which employs many British people and which sponsored an event at the Chelsea Flower Show which I attended nearly three years ago. I have never received any money from them and only ever attended one event, along with many other MP's. Labour MP's have accepted hospitality from the same company for other events, including the opera," said Mr Ellis.

He also said that all his benefits are properly declared in addition to not claiming meal allowances.

Dragons' Den is set to be hot chili date

The next stop for the 'Corby chili man' is going to be entering in the red hot world of the Dragons' Den.

He is aiming to take his handmade chili sauces into the same stratosphere as Reggae Reggae Sauce.

This is a Jamaican jerk spice, popularised by creator Levi Roots' who appeared on Dragons' Den and got financial backing from investor, Peter Jones.

Chris who was a chef for 20 years is currently the catering manager at Brooke Weston Trust has been making his sauces for five years.

He said: "I am definitely going on Dragons' Den in 2015."

"I am already looking at how to draw up a business plan."

"If I go on I will be asking them for £250,000 which

HOT STUFF: Chris Lapsley with a selection of the Chili sauces which he plans to take onto Dragons' Den next year would allow me to set it up properly and something I can do full time.

"It started out as a hobby when I started making them to give away to family and friends.

"A number of people came back to me and told me they loved it and would buy it from me.

"I created them as I love spicy food and had tried all the chili sauces on the market and wanted to make my own out of fresh ingredients.

"The three sauces I make are a Thai single sweet chili sauce, a barbecue Texan chili and a Cajun fire which from Cajun food in the southern states of America.

"They come in hot levels of single x, double x and triple xxx which is extremely hot."

All of Chris's chili's are mad using the Naga chili which is the hottest chili you can get so it gives you a kick like a mule.

The success of his chili sauces has been spread by word of mouth and selling them at car boot sales where they have gone down a treat.

Heartbreak as family shot dead in USA

BY STEVE SCOLES

steve.scoles@hpnorthants.co.uk

Two former Northampton women have been murdered with their family in Utah, USA.

Northamptonian Marie King, 55, was found along with her daughter Kelly Boren, 32, also originally from Northampton and her children Joshua "Jaden" Boren, 7 and Haley Boren, 5 in her home in the small town of Spanish Fork. They had all been shot.

The body of Kelly's policeman husband Joshua Boren, 34, was also at the house.

Police believe he shot his family and turned the gun on himself.

Friends and family of Marie, a former Northampton School for Girls pupil, have been paying their respects on Facebook.

Her sister Jeanette Malpas who still lives in Northampton posted: "R.I.P To my sister Marie her daughter Kelly and her children Jaden and Hayley bug May you all rest peacefully I will love and miss you all for ever.xxxx"

MISSED: Kelly had many friends back in Northampton

Marie was a member of the Northampton Past Facebook group and would regularly keep in touch with old friends from Northampton.

Group member Lesley Brett posted: "Sad sad news one of our members and a friend of myself has been tragically killed along with members of her family RIP Marie King you will be sadly missed."

Lindon City Police Chief Cody Cullimore released this statement: "The Lindon City

Police Department is saddened to learn of the tragic events which occurred at the Spanish Fork home of Officer Joshua Boren on January 16.

"Officer Boren was hired by the Police Department on October 14, 2013 and worked as a patrol officer since that time.

"Prior to coming to the Lindon Police Department, Officer Boren worked as a Deputy with the Utah County Sheriff's office for over seven years.

"Officer Boren was selected for hire in October from a field of over 70 highly qualified applicants and had performed admirably as a patrol officer. His conduct, behavior and professionalism were exemplary.

"We are shocked and saddened by the events as they appear to have occurred. We are working closely with the Spanish Fork Police Department to investigate and hopefully come to an understanding of this tragic occurrence."

A memorial was held in Northampton last night for Marie and her family.

Relief for Ringing Ears

New Discovery brings QUIET for most Tinnitus Patients

It's called tinnitus /tini' tæs/, and it is the tinkling, ringing or hissing heard in one or both ears. And actually, it is not in your ears at all, it's in your brain. It is estimated that 1 in 100 people in the UK have tinnitus which persists most of the time, and severely affects their quality of life.

A recent white paper published in the peer-reviewed journal the Hearing Review reports relief among 60 percent of patients from a sampling provided by 230 practitioners. Of this group, one-in-five (22 percent) said they received "major relief." This is good news for anyone with head noise.

Where Does Head Noise Come From?

In the cochlea thousands of "hair cells" are set in motion and sound is converted to electrical signals which travel along the auditory nerve to the brainstem for further processing.

The primary auditory cortex is the region of the brain that is responsible for processing of auditory (sound) information.

"Tinnitus is likely triggered by random neural activity in the auditory cortex," said Tim Evans, Managing Director at Hearing and Mobility Ltd. "It can be caused by noise trauma, allergic reactions, and sometimes strong prescription medications.

While some head noise may subside after 12 to 20 hours—after a day of operating a table saw ... or at the completion of a brief regimen of prescription medication—with continual exposure tinnitus can become permanent."

According to Oregon Health Sciences University, 90 percent of patients with severe tinnitus also possess hearing loss. Patients who do not seek help for their hearing loss will perceive a worsening of their head noise.

"One major inadvertent tragedy is the belief that tinnitus cannot be helped," said Sergei Kochkin, PhD, executive director of the Better

Head noise is louder than ambient sounds to a listener who has a hearing problem.

Hearing Institute. "People, in addition to not seeking help for their tinnitus, also do not seek help for their hearing loss specifically because they concurrently have tinnitus." The report concludes that citizens with ringing ears should seek the help of a practitioner who is knowledgeable about treating tinnitus with hearing aids. Relief can now be achieved for most people.

Relief is Here!

A mild to moderate hearing loss causes the listener to experience a reduction in the awareness of ambient sounds. When head noise is present, this reduction in ambient sounds causes the head noise to seemingly increase. This study documents quantitative improvement achieved with the fitting of prescription hearing aids programmed with specific algorithms.

All Hearing and Mobility Centres are staffed by practitioners who have completed special training education courses in dealing with head noise said Tim Evans. Treatment comprises conducting an electronic hearing test, then importing the patient's audiogram into test unit hearing instruments. The practitioner and the patient can then see what the hearing condition of the ears are and how hearing instruments would overcome the problems.

Next, by increasing the amplification of low-level sounds as part of treatment and reducing maximum output of the instrument, we can move the patient's tinnitus which was previously conspicuous in the foreground of their perception, and relegate it appropriately to the background with all other environmental sounds," said Tim Evans. "The very act of taking the focus off of tinnitus spells relief for most patients.

Certain prescription hearing instruments can be tuned to bring ambient sounds back to a normal level, thereby suppressing head noise.

"What is gratifying in our work is the patient's emotion as they realize their tinnitus has subsided, on the spot."

Programmable Instruments to Try

Instrument programmability and practitioner competency are the keys to achieving tinnitus relief.

In the cochlea thousands of tiny "hair cells" called stereocilia are set in motion and sound is converted to electrical signals.

With hearing loss, the hair cells are damaged and cannot pick up sound properly. This damaged signal is sent to the brain.

The damaged signal causes random neural activity in the auditory cortex, triggering the sound of tinnitus.

What is gratifying in our work is the patients emotion as they realise their

LANDMARKS: few towns have architecture to rival the Guildhall and the Market Square moved away from the county to the Far East there is still a deep pool of specialist and design talent based here that puts Northampton on the world stage – our shoes have graced the feet of Daniel Craig, David Beckham and Tony Blair.

You will see the stories of some of those longstanding businesses on these pages but there are also newer firms helping to shape the economy of the future.

Distribution and finance employs thousands of Northamptonians and the businesses that look after these people and help them turn their homes into the places they want to come home to are central to our lives as well.

So take a look at some of the names on these pages and see what they bring to the town.

You'll find they have got a lot to offer and often more than is obvious.

It's not just the great service they provide – they all play a part in the story of our lives and the life of Northampton itself.

Welcome. . .

What's the first thing you should do when you want to move? Sit down.

It sounds like I'm talking in riddles but it's really very simple. Sit down with your Herald and Post property supplement and see what's out there. You'll do a lot of research whether you are buying or selling so make sure you start with the newspaper with the biggest circulation in the county. And in these pages you'll find not just an amazing array of expertise in the businesses that advertise here but some of the nicest people you could hope to meet along the way. Why shouldn't they be? A new home is a big dream for some, a smaller dream for others but when the keys are handed over its always a dream come true. Good luck with your search, you're starting in the right place...

Warm regards,

BUT DON'T JUST TAKE OUR WORD

CUSTOMER REVIEWS*

Bittern Street
Northampton
NN49DL

Dear Mr Miller,

I just wanted to drop you a quick email to say how impressed I was with the service provided by Millers to my husband and I during the sale of our house in West Hunsbury towards the end of last year.

Although we'd obviously bought the property four years ago, it was the first time that we were faced with selling a property. Plus the fact that it was a shared ownership property made it a rather daunting prospect. We began by getting a few quotes from other agents in Northampton. Not only were some of them more expensive but they also didn't initially provide the customer service that we were after.

The fact that Millers had already sold properties down our road was a big bonus for us - showing that those SOLD signs are good for advertising!

Not only that, Carl provided a first class service from the start of the process when he visited our home and talked us through the process. We felt we could be open and honest with him and he talked us through everything we needed to know.

So when Carl sold our home on the first ten minute viewing, we were amazed!

Sadly, we ended up losing the initial buyer several weeks later which was obviously a worry to us having already paid upfront fees to buy our next house.

Carl reassured us that he would do everything he could do find us another buyer. The house went back on the market that night and 48 hours later it was sold again.

Carl went through a lot of stress and worked so hard to make sure he secured another buyer for us and kept us in the loop every step of the way.

Even when the solicitors went quiet, Carl continued to keep us informed about everything that was happening which was a huge relief during a very stressful time in the run up to completion.

If I'm being completely honest I found the selling and buying of a property pretty stressful whilst trying to hold down a busy job and in the run up to Christmas, but Carl made it that bit less stressful which is what you need from an estate agent.

So thank you to Carl and everyone at Millers for doing a fantastic job. I will recommend the company to anyone that asks and I hope you go on to please many more buyers across Northampton.

Kind regards,
AliceB

This is the right time to buy or sell your home We at Millers Estate Agents are seeing great sale results

We are certainly feeling the improvement in the market here at Millers Estate Agents. We are showing our best sales results since 2008 and that is being mirrored again moving in to 2014. Over 70% of our house sales this month have been sold on the first or second viewing. We are taking on new developments throughout Northamptonshire and we are registering a higher -level of applicants with the motivation to find their perfect home. And The coming months are historically busy in the housing market as homeowners conclude "New Year – New Start " and decide to market their home.

So this IS the right time to buy or sell your property , but we wanted to go that one step further we wanted to create an estate agency that listens, that is not just about numbers or figures or reaching those targets .

Here at Millers Estate Agent we give our customers a positively different experience.

We are the agent who listens to what the homeowner wants. We don't have a marketing package where "one size fits all" we tailor the marketing to fit each individual vendor, we are the agent who will financially qualify each offer before its agreed, we are the agent who never misses a call on your home regardless of whether it's day or night, we are the agent who doesn't just find you a buyer we find you the best buyer at the best price. And we are the agent who communicates with you as we know that's one of the most important factors when choosing an agent.

So as our logo says: Millers Estate Agents, SMALL ENOUGH TO CARE, BIG ENOUGH TO SELL.

WHAT'S ON ROUND-UP

Bring me sunshine with Eric and little Ern

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

Following an acclaimed premiere at the Edinburgh Fringe 2013, an autumn tour and a West End season, the brilliantly funny homage to the double act Morecambe and Wise, Eric and Little Ern, tours the UK this spring, coming to Northampton's Royal & Derngate on February 1 and then The Core at Corby Cube on February 13.

The production vividly brings back warm memories of a bygone era, recreating some of the finest moments of Eric and Ernie's television and stage performances, through the use of classic sketches alongside new material devised by the show's performers.

Newly extended from its hour-long Edinburgh format, the script explores the dynamic that made Morecambe and Wise one of Britain's most enduringly popular double acts.

Producers were granted rare permission by Eddie Braben to feature favourite moments from his writing, just weeks before his untimely death in 2013.

Together with further classic material licensed from the estates of Hills and Green, who wrote for Eric and Ernie in their early career, the show mixes in new scenes exploring the public and private personas of Morecambe and Wise.

The show is performed by its creators Ian Ashpitel and Jonty Stephen, who collaborated to build this show from a short sketch into a full-

length production

Spice Guru, Talbot St

Spice Guru gave me the best curry I've ever had this week. Now that's not saying much, I'm no expert, but I will be encouraging the experts I know to go and give it a try.

Chef Muhammad Ali hails from Oxford and has set up a bright and bold establishment on the corner of Talbot Street and Kettering Road in Northampton.

It's a cosy place seating around 50 to 60 on snug tables. Our table naan bread ended up on a chair to make room for the marvellous spread Muhammad served up. Muhammad's award winning King Prawns in Pineapple was a real scene stealer arriving at the table in a hollowed out pineapple. But every aspect of the superb meal we were served - from the colourful arrangement of dips and pickles with our poppadums to the slate plates and modern presentation of the courses that followed - had been thought through and given the benefit of Muhammad's personal style. The food was quite simply excellent.

Test drive

- from £26,000
- Co2 emissions: 0g/km
- 0-62mph 10.4
- Top Speed 87 mph
- Range: 118 miles

With a range of up to 118 miles and a recharging time that can take just four hours, the Volkswagen e-Golf makes electric power a much more feasible and normal prospect for British motorists. Turn the key to prime the electric motor and the e-Golf responds with silence. Otherwise there aren't too many surprises. There is some rumble from the tyres but other than that it's as quiet as you'd expect an electric car to be. If your commute to work is less than 40 miles each way - and let's face it most people's are - then this is a model that could work for you. It might not be realistic as an only family car but it could well be a smart solution. One way or another, electric cars are going to represent the next twenty years or more of motoring. Are you really going to invest in ordinary outdated engine technology for your next car? Volkswagen now has its bases covered either way.

Force India unveil new car ahead of 2014 challenge

NEW LOOK: Force India's car

FORMULA ONE

Silverstone based team Force India have become the first F1 outfit to reveal a picture of their new car ahead of the 2014 season.

With various rule changes coming into play teams have faced challenges in car development since last season ended in November, and Force's image doesn't give too much away.

"Almost every single part is a new design, from the front wing right back to the diffuser," said Force's Technical Director Andrew Green.

"Its genetics still lie in the 2013 car, but we've had to achieve the same results in a slightly different way. The nose is a stand-out but from the nose backwards it looks quite similar.

"It's a little bit 'fatter' for the increased cooling requirements, but we hope to trim that out during the early part of the season. To be competitive we have to develop and because there are so many areas that need significantly refining, optimising the performance of this car is going to be a big challenge."

Team principal Dr Vijay Mallya is confident that 2014 will be the best season in the team's history - with a new driving line-up of Nico Hulkenberg and Sergio Perez now confirmed.

"We've got to aim higher than last year," he said. "It's an ambitious goal, but I believe it's a realistic one because we have to look forward and take the fight to the teams ahead of us.

"We have the key elements in place to continue moving forward, such as our expanded agreement with Mercedes-Benz to include the complete power unit and gearbox.

"Combined with our strong driver line-up there is definitely the potential for 2014 to be our strongest season yet."

SAINTS

BY DAN PALMER

Jim Mallinder is looking forward to seeing Saints' young guns in action again as the LV= Cup takes centre stage once more.

Northampton's Director of Rugby saw his side finish their Heineken Cup campaign for the season with a 13-3 victory over French champions Castres at Franklin's Gardens on Friday night, and now focus will switch to the Anglo-Welsh competition and a clash with Newport Gwent Dragons on Saturday.

The Castres win was not enough to book a Heineken quarter-final but continued European rugby was secured as Saints did enough to drop into the Amlin Challenge Cup last eight.

This means that Mallinder's men are still fighting for silverware on three fronts and it will be the club's youth who will once again be given the chance to impress in the LV= - with the team's biggest names set to compete internationally.

"It's the end of a really tough run in the Premiership and Heineken Cup meaning the international lads get a bit of a rest before their duties start over the Six Nations," said Mallinder.

"It's great to have so many players representing the club and their absence also presents a good opportunity for some of our younger lads and some of the bench players to come back into the first team and play some rugby.

"We want to win every game we play and every competition we are in and the LV= Cup is no different.

"We view it as a valuable competition and of course it also leads back into the Premiership, where we'll need these lads playing well to maintain the momentum we've started."

Youthful Saints sides have won both of their games in the LV= so far this season, with Premiership rivals Gloucester dismantled at the Gardens 33-6 before a fine 39-18 away win at London Irish the following week.

The results have put Northampton at the top of pool four, with the competition's format seeing every team in their group play each of the five sides in pool one, and vice versa.

Saturday sees Saints travel to Wales for the second time in three weeks to square off with Newport with a home tester against Saracens rounding off the LV= campaign the following week.

They will be looking for two wins to ensure a home semi-final in a competition they won back in 2010.

Meanwhile, Welsh wing George North has been included on a star-studded 15-man long list for the ERC European Player of the Year 2014 award.

The Welshman featured in each of the Saints' six games in their Heineken Cup 'Pool of Death' and was among the tournament's top five metre makers, scoring a crucial try in the epic win at Leinster before inspiring the men in black, green and gold with an 80-metre solo score at Ospreys in round four.

North can further stake his claim for the Player of the Year award when the Saints head to Sale for their April quarter final in the Amlin.

The Judging Panel will also have the option to consider additional players who make major contributions during the knockout stages of both tournaments before announcing a five-man shortlist following the semi-finals.

The overall winner will be named immediately after the finals in Cardiff in May.

In addition to the decision of the panel, the 44 clubs in the Heineken Cup and the Amlin Challenge Cup will have the opportunity to vote for contenders nominated on the ERC European Player of the Year 2014 shortlist while supporters can also have their say on Twitter using #ERCPlayer2014, and on the Heineken Cup and Amlin Challenge Cup Facebook pages.

Ripley bids for improvement with Northants 'underdogs'

CRICKET

Northamptonshire coach David Ripley is determined that the county will not be one-season wonders after their outstanding 2013.

Ripley guided his charges to glory in the Friends Life t20 competition and followed that up with promotion to Division One of the County Championship.

It will be a tough act to follow but Ripley has set his side one simple goal for the new campaign - improve.

"There's a little bit more expectation," he said. "We won our first trophy for 21 years so they haven't come along too often at Northants considering the size of the club we are.

"But we think we can build on that and we don't want to be one season wonders. "We want our cricket to be consistent in all three competitions, that's our aim.

"Our strapline is we want to improve from last year so we'll see what that brings."

Top flight cricket in the four day game is something Ripley is especially looking forward to, with a tough looking schedule in Division One now looming.

"We're looking forward to it immensely," he said.

"We've had a promotion and haven't been in the top division for quite a number of years.

"We worked very hard to get into this situation and it's the place to be, it's the only place you can win the County Championship.

"We're quite long odds to do that but we don't mind being the underdogs, and we're looking forward to the challenge of being among the big boys."

Northants begin their County Championship campaign by hosting current holders Durham, and will then travel to Yorkshire before a home game with Lancashire.

King: It's not perfect but I'll take things week by week

COBBLERS

BY DAN PALMER
sport@hsmmedia.co.uk

Andy King says he is simply taking things 'week by week' as he continues to hold onto the Cobblers hot-seat.

Northampton's caretaker manager could be forgiven for believing that the club's managerial vacancy would have been filled by now after Aidy Boothroyd's departure following a 4-1 defeat to Wycombe before Christmas.

He admits that the situation is 'not perfect' but still finds himself holding the reins at League Two's bottom club ahead of Saturday's visit of Chesterfield.

"I'm enjoying being in charge, opportunities don't come around too often," said King.

"I'm just going week to week. It's not perfect but that's the situation we've got.

"There are other people who will face this situation, Stuart Gray has had eight games [as caretaker at Sheffield Wednesday].

"I'm happy to be in charge and while I am all I can do is win football matches."

King's squad have had an extended rest ahead of Saturday's test against the Spireites as last weekend's scheduled trip to fellow strugglers Torquay United fell foul of the weather.

The Plainmoor outfit have recently appointed former Cobblers midfielder Chris Hargreaves as manager - who was himself linked with the Sixfields post - and King admitted to having mixed feelings about the post-nomine following Hargreaves' debut win for Torquay at AFC Wimbledon a week prior.

"I think they were a little bit confident," said King. "Chris took his first game at Wimbledon and got a great result, so we might have caught them on the hop.

"It might have been a good time to catch them.

"He's going to learn very quickly that this division is very difficult and so is football management.

"I had it in my mind we might shock them.

"I also wanted to clear up the managerial situation and that result at the weekend might have made a difference.

"But if we hadn't won it we would be in a more precarious position and when we next play them we may be a better team, so you never know with these things."

King has been allowed to bring in new additions to the squad, with strikers Hallam Hope and Antonio German, defensive pair Sean McGinty and James Hurst and winger Matty Blair adding to a growing list of loanees on the training ground.

He admitted that these temporary arrivals caused some problems but claimed he had little choice but to recruit them.

"Of course it's difficult," he said. "You are trying to put into them the importance of where you are and it's not their club.

"I've always felt that's difficult, but I had no option, I had to do something because of the injury situation and also to live up to competition for positions.

"People don't understand it's not always easy to get the ones you want. I watched Man Utd Reserves and I'd take Will Keane and Federico Macheda, but I don't think they would come here.

"We've got a cash bid in for a player at the moment and the chairman is doing fantastically well for us and is giving us the best possible opportunity to bring players in.

"I do know what I want and I am trying to get it."

Chesterfield will undoubtedly be tough opposition but the Cobblers can take heart from a 0-0 draw claimed at the promotion chasers back in November.

"It was a difficult game, we defended very well but we didn't create or look like beating them, but we got a good point," said King, Boothroyd's ex-assistant.

"It's out home game, so we have to be positive, which we will be."

Quartet of wins for the Titans

BASKETBALL

Northamptonshire Titans' U18 men saw off Sporting Club Albion 70-45 in the Midlands Conference.

The victory consolidated their position at the top of the division with Luke Lewis top-scoring with 19 points and Reuben David chipping in with 17.

The U16 boys also racked up a big victory as they put a century of points past Harlow Hawks in a 106-56 win, while the U15 saw off Leicester Blaze 84-40.

A clean sweep of wins was completed by the U14 girls who won 63-55 against Brentwood Fire.

Molly wins again and sets record

ATHLETICS

Molly Williams, pictured, made it a club record four wins from four in the West Midlands Young Athletes Cross Country League as she helped Rugby & Northampton Athletic Club maintain their grip on the U11 Girls' Championship.

A time of seven minutes and 21 seconds at Nuneaton's Pingles Stadium ensured her a comprehensive nine second victory on another successful day for R&N's young athletes.

The club leads five out of eight age group categories with one meeting left.

Gavin set for 24 hour Daytona bid

MOTORSPORT

Yardley Hastings race ace Oliver Gavin is heading to Florida for the first major endurance classic of the year, the Rolex 24 at Daytona this weekend.

With the advent of the new Tudor United Sportscar Championship, the season starts earlier than ever and Gavin will be beginning his 13th consecutive campaign with the championship-winning GT team, once again paired with his 2012 ALMS GT co-champion Tommy Milner.

trying to do and the managers we're talking to," he said. "We want to be more open about it but we can't at the moment."

King remains the favourite to take the job full-time but his appointment now would raise more questions about why the process has taken so long to be resolved.

Another man who has also been heavily tipped to be picked by Cardoza, pictured, is Colin Calderwood, the Cobblers boss between 2003 and 2006.

The Scot's odds were as short as 4/7 at times last week as speculation increased about him making a return to Sixfields.

Stranraer native Calderwood achieved automatic promotion from League Two with the Cobblers in 2006 after two fail- ures in the play-offs, and then left the club to take over at Nottingham Forest.

The former Tottenham Hotspur defender also had a spell managing north of the border at Hibernian and is currently assistant manager to Chris Hughton at Premier League Norwich City.

Hughton, for his part, has played down the link concern- ing his number two.

"That's news to me," he said when asked about the speculation. "If anything like that has been mentioned, I presume it's because he was an ex-manager there but it's absolutely nothing that I am aware of."

One month and counting, there's still no manager

• Cardoza pledges 'significant' cash for new boss

COBBLERS

BY DAN PALMER
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

The new Northampton Town manager will be allowed to spend 'significant' cash as the Cobblers look to move away from relegation trouble, but fans have now been waiting more than a month to find out who that man will be.

Cobblers chairman David Cardoza confirmed this week that whoever he appoints will be given funds to strengthen the faltering squad, but with former boss Aidy Boothroyd sacked way back on December 21, fans are becoming restless at the lack of any permanent news.

Caretaker Andy King, pictured, will once again be in charge on Saturday when League Two high flyers Chesterfield visit Sixfields and will be at the helm of a club who are five points adrift of safety and in real danger of being relegated out of the Football League and into the Skrill Premier division.

Cardoza has repeatedly insisted that the club cannot be rushed and he will continue to take his time over his decision.

However, the end of the January transfer window is rapidly approaching, suggesting that a new man will have to be in place quickly if he is going to have the time to spend the cash the chairman has promised to provide.

King himself would like the job permanently but the fact he has not been appointed after four games in temporary charge is perhaps a clear indication that the club are more interested in other candidates.

"It's as we were, Andy King's still very much in charge," said Cardoza.

"We're still talking to a number of people and we're still waiting for one or two situations to unfold and then we will be in the position to make the appointment."

"But we can't be rushed. We're still waiting for one or two things to happen, and when they happen, then we will all know what's going on."

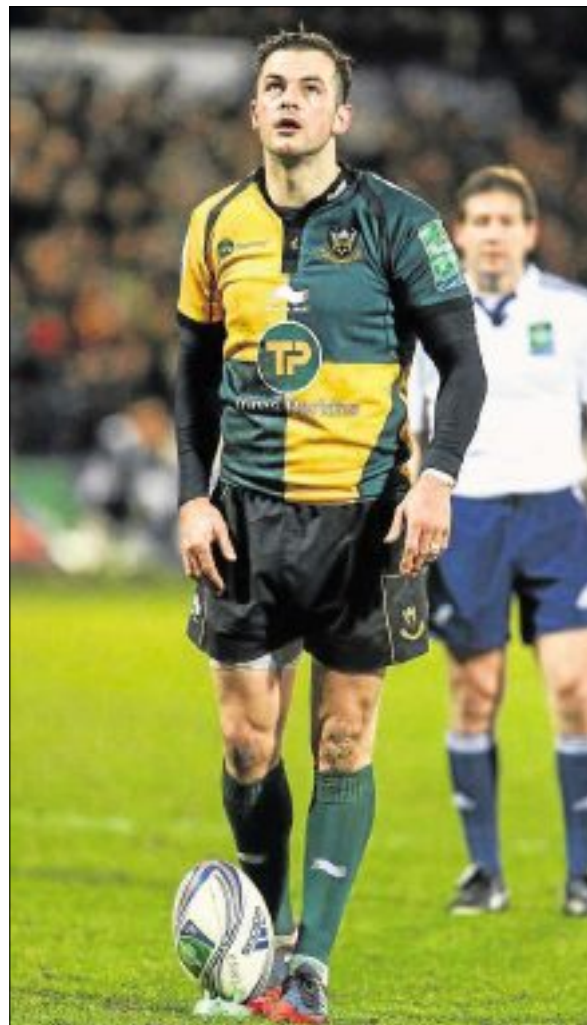

"We're going to be looking to significantly strengthen the squad, we need to. We need to get out of the bottom two as quickly as possible, stay out of it and hopefully move up the table."

"Significant money will be made available."

Cardoza said that he understood fans' frustrations at the delays.

"Certain situations we just can't mention it, the secrecy of what we're
